

[Doc. No. 4]

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEW JERSEY
CAMDEN VICINAGE

MALIBU MEDIA, LLC,

Plaintiff,

v.

JOHN DOE SUBSCRIBER ASSIGNED IP
ADDRESS 69.142.134.211,

Defendant.

Civil No. 16-1770-JBS-KMW

ORDER

THIS MATTER is before the Court on the Motion [Doc. No. 4] filed by Plaintiff seeking leave to serve a third party subpoena prior to the Rule 26(f) conference. The Court has reviewed the submissions and notes that there is no opposition to this Motion. The Court has decided this matter pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 78(b) and for the reasons that follow, Plaintiff's Motion is granted.

This action involves the alleged illegal distribution of several of Plaintiff's copyrighted works. Compl. ¶¶ 2-3, Doc. No. 1. Plaintiff alleges that John Doe Defendant used an internet file sharing protocol called BitTorrent to infringe Plaintiff's copyrighted work without authorization. Id. at ¶¶ 11-26. As a result of the alleged infringement, Plaintiff alleges that it has suffered a substantial loss.

In the Complaint, Plaintiff identifies the Defendant only by an IP address. See Compl. Accordingly, by way of the instant Motion, Plaintiff seeks leave to serve a subpoena on the Defendant's Internet Service Provider ("ISP"), Comcast Cable Holdings, LLC, in advance of the Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(f) conference in order to learn the name and address of Defendant. Pl.'s Br. at 4-5. Plaintiff argues that good cause exists to grant the requested discovery because it has clearly identified the specific discovery sought, there is no alternative means of obtaining the identity of Defendant, it needs the information to advance its claims and its interest in obtaining Defendant's true identity outweighs Defendant's interest in remaining anonymous. Id. at 5-6, 8-14. Further, Plaintiff argues that federal circuit courts and courts in this District unanimously permit discovery to identify John Doe defendants. Id. at 7.

Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26, "[a] party may not seek discovery from any source before the parties have conferred as required by Rule 26(f), except . . . by court order." Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(d)(1). Generally, courts considering motions for leave to serve expedited discovery requests to ascertain the identity of John Doe defendants in cases similar to this matter involving internet copyright infringement apply the "good cause" test. Malibu Media, LLC v. John Does 1-11, No. 12-7615, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26217, at *4-5 (D.N.J. Feb. 26, 2013). "Good cause exists where 'the need for expedited discovery, in consideration of the administration of justice, outweighs the prejudice to the responding party.'" Id. at *5 (quoting Am. Legalnet, Inc. v. Davis, 673 F. Supp. 2d 1063, 1066 (C.D. Cal. 2009)).

Here, consistent with the recent holding of this Court and many courts in this District, the Court finds that Plaintiff has demonstrated good cause and will be granted leave to serve a subpoena on John Doe Defendant's ISP to ascertain Defendant's name and address only because the Court recognizes that without the discovery sought, Plaintiff will be unable to discover the identity of the alleged infringer. W. Coast Prods., Inc. v. Does 1-169, No. 12-5930, 2013 WL 3793969, at *3-4 (D.N.J. July 19, 2013); Battle Force, LLC v. John Doe 1-39, No. 12-6539-JBS-KMW, Doc. No. 9 (May 9, 2013); Malibu Media, LLC, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26217, at *11-12.

However, many courts impose safeguards to protect the privacy rights of potentially innocent individuals recognizing that Plaintiff's request to conduct expedited discovery, by serving subpoenas on ISPs to obtain the identity of the account holder of the allegedly infringing IP address, may not actually reveal the alleged infringer. W. Coast Prods., Inc., 2013 WL 3793969, at *3-4; Battle Force, LLC v. John Doe 1-39, No. 12-6539-JBS-KMW, Doc. No. 9 (May 9, 2013); Malibu Media, LLC, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26217, at *10-12. Thus, to protect the privacy interest of the John Doe Defendant, the Court will grant Plaintiff's request but will limit the request to ensure an innocent individual is not unduly burdened. Consequently, for the forgoing reasons,

IT IS on this 8th day of July, 2016 hereby:

ORDERED that Plaintiff's Motion [Doc. No. 4] seeking leave to serve a subpoena pursuant to Rule 45 prior to the Rule 26(f) conference is hereby GRANTED; and it is further
